

Jeremy Fish, MD, Family Medicine Residency Director, John Muir Health

Jeremy Fish, MD, is a national leader in Graduate Medical Education with a focus on developing & spreading team-based, advanced primary care GME training across California and beyond. He is the founder director of the team-based John Muir Health Family Medicine Residency Program based in East Bay Area and the founding director of the CAFP California Residency Network which now represents nearly 80 Family Medicine residency programs across the state.