

Nicole Carr-Lee, PsyD, Director of Behavioral Health Integrated Services, Rady Children's Health

Dr. Nicole Carr-Lee is a licensed, bilingual clinical psychologist and administrator. Dr. Carr-Lee has worked as a clinical psychologist in the Los Angeles and San Diego areas with children, adolescents, and families. She became passionate about integrated care when she worked as a Behavioral Health Consultant at a federally qualified health center for more than 6 years. During that time, she worked with children and adults, within the primary care setting. In 2021, Dr. Carr-Lee joined the Rady Children's Hospital, now

Rady Children's Health, in the Transforming Mental Health Initiative. She helped to strengthen the Mental Health Integration (MHI) program, a pediatric primary care behavioral health care delivery system. Her current role is the Director of Behavioral Health Integrated Services at Rady Children's Health, and it allows her the opportunity to continue to innovate in the field of integrated care in pediatric primary care.
