

Reshma Gupta, MD, MSHPM, Chief of Population Health and Accountable Care, UC Davis Health

Dr. Reshma Gupta is a healthcare executive dedicated to innovation in population health, affordability, and social justice. With expertise in clinical and operational transformation, digital strategy, and policy, she has consistently driven high impact initiatives. Dr. Gupta co-develops a systemwide population health strategy across all UC health systems through the University of California Office of the President. She has been featured as a Top Executive Population Health Leader in Becker's Hospital

Review and recognized by the Presidential Leadership Scholars program.

As Chief of Population Health and Accountable Care, Dr. Gupta has led enterprise-wide innovations to integrate digital and AI strategy, streamline care pathways across inpatient and outpatient settings that reduced hospitalizations, stood up new quality improvement systems, supported integrated behavioral health, and reduced financial losses in accountable contracts. Dr. Gupta also focuses upstream in creating regional systems for social needs and reducing inequities in clinical outcomes. Dr. Gupta also has served as a trusted advisor to federal and state agencies including the CMS Innovations' Center.